

All during the month of May, solve clues and bike* to landmarks and Bike to Work Day (BTWD) sponsors throughout the City of Fairfax. When you find the locations:

- Post a selfie on Instagram showing the location and your active travel mode*
- Tag @cityoffairfaxva and use the hashtag #rideandseek

Prizes will be awarded each Monday in May to the photos with the most "likes".

If you don't bike, you can still participate - stroll, jog, or use another active travel mode to explore the city!*

This public art, on display at City Hall, resembles a bicyclist and was created by Larry Morris.

This BTWD sponsor offers customized Pilates classes and state-of-art equipment from their Pickett Shopping Center location.

This trail link under Pickett Road connects the Willcoxon Trail to the Cross County Connector Trail.

This field is a great place to play and was renamed in honor of Armistice Turtora, the first chair of the City's Parks and Rec Board.

Need to get the right fit for new running shoes or find a social group to train with? Find this BTWD sponsor in Old Town Plaza.

This city park in the heart of Old Town Fairfax hosts events like BTWD and provides a great place to play and relax.

Visit this BTWD sponsor for bikes, accessories, and tune-ups. Also find them at the Old Town Fairfax BTWD pit stop on Friday May 17th!

This City facility next to the Community Garden at City Hall is a great place to compost your food scraps.

This BTWD sponsor is a locally owned shop specializing in home repair, ready to help with your home and garden projects.

Ride over to this BTWD sponsor in the heart of Old Town Fairfax and enjoy one of the craft beers on their curated tap list with some Asian street food.

This city park off of Jermantown Road offers community garden plots, a playground, trails, and more!

This BTWD sponsor has the friendliest pack of wait staff in NOVA and fresh Southwestern food. Ride on over and treat yourself to lunch.

This brick farmhouse is nationally significant for the Civil War inscriptions including signatures, pictographs, and games on the house walls.

This BTWD sponsor offers massages, facials, and more. You can also find them at the Old Town Fairfax BTWD pit stop on Friday May 17!

This city park off of Plantation Parkway has a lovely wooded bike trail and a playground for the kids.