

Vision for Transportation

In 2035, Fairfax is a city with options for residents to easily, safely, and efficiently move within and between neighborhoods either by walking, bicycling, taking public transportation, or driving.

